

The Effect of Information Service From Specific Job Bursa (BKK) Towards Students' Working Interest Among Food Expertise Programme
In SMK N 4 Yogyakarta

By :
TEGAR PRAKOSO WIBOWO
(07511241002)

ABSTRAK

This study aims to determine : (1) information service of Spesific Job Bursa (BKK) at SMK N 4 Yogyakarta; (2) students' working interest in food program expertise of SMK N 4 Yogyakarta; (3) the effect of Spesific Job Bursa(BKK) information toward the students working interst in food expertise program of SMK N 4 Yogyakarta.

This type of research is the ex post facto with a population of 131 students and took a sample of 109 subjects using proportional random sampling technique. The research was conducted on student in grade III courses catering expertise SMK N Yogyakarta from July 2011 until January 2011. Data collecting technique was using questionnaires and interview. Test requitments analysis was using tests of normalty and linearity. Analysis technique was using the product moment with the help of statistical program SPSS 16.0 for windows realease.

The result showed that : (1) A special information service of the job market BKK SMK N 4 Yogyakarta very high category (5,50%), cthe high category (81,65%), sufficient categories (12,84%), and the lower categories 0 student; (2) Interest in working student program food expertise SMK N 4 Yogyakarta category of very high (32,11%), the high category (67,89%), and low enough and the lower categories of 0 student; (3) the result show that $r_{tabel} 0,514$ greater than the $r_{tabel} 0,195$ $r_{hitung} 0,514 > 0,915 r_{tabel}$. This means H_0 rejected and H_a accepted, so it can be concluded that the specialized job market information service BKK (X) affects student's interest in work programs food expertise (Y) SMK N 4 Yogyakarta.

Key words : Special Employment Exchange Information Service BKK, Interests Student Work, Food Skills Program